

WI00122056*Ergonomic design principles for the operability of mobile machinery

Establishes the ergonomic principles to be followed during the process of design of mobile machinery with special emphasis on the points where mobile machinery differs from other machinery. The ergonomic principles given in this standard apply to either or both working seated and standing up positions. It applies for the operator's workplace.